About the Children's Defense Fund Action Council

The Children's Defense Fund Action Council's Leave No Child Behind® mission is to ensure every child a Healthy Start, a Head Start, a Fair Start, a Safe Start and a Moral Start in life and successful passage to adulthood with the help of caring families and communities.

We seek to provide a strong, effective voice for all the children of America who cannot vote, lobby, or speak for themselves. We pay particular attention to the needs of poor and minority children and those with disabilities. The CDF Action Council educates the nation about the needs of children and encourages preventive investments before they get sick or into trouble, drop out of school, or suffer family breakdown.

The CDF Action Council began in 1969 and is a private, nonprofit organization under Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

IT'S HARD TO TIGHTEN YOUR BELT
WHEN YOU'RE WEARING DIAPERS.

Every dollar invested in a poor child now will save many more dollars later. It's an investment that not only will make us a kinder, gentler nation, but also a richer one.

Preface

Children Need Emergency Help from Congress Now

Millions of children in our nation require emergency help in our recession ravaged economy to prevent irreparable harm to them and our nation's future. Child poverty, hunger, and homelessness are rampant. The wealth and income gaps between the richest one percent of Americans and the rest of us are out of control. Forty-six million people in America are poor. In 2010, 16.4 million children lived in poverty – 950,000 more than in 2009. More than one in every five children is poor. More than one in three Black and Hispanic children are poor. And the younger children are the poorer they are - with one in four infants, toddlers and preschoolers poor. Between 2000 and 2010 the child poverty rate increased 36 percent.

The deteriorating economy hurt millions of families, spreading stress, instability and uncertainty about their children's futures. Massive parental unemployment, home foreclosures, and huge cutbacks in education, after-school and summer programs, social services, libraries, parks and recreation are leaving many children and youths idle, disengaged and unshielded from the streets. Although child needs have dramatically increased with growing child poverty, investments in programs that protect children face additional cascading cuts at the federal, state and local levels. Unless citizens and voters raise a ruckus for new investment priorities, our children and grandchildren will continue to slide backwards as America's dream goes into reverse. Our children's hopes and dreams are waning as their visions of a future better than or as good as their parents are rapidly vanishing.

How Members of Congress Scored

Engaged and outspoken citizens and voters make good leaders. Thanks to your efforts, more than 200 Members of Congress stepped up to support key votes in the 2010 Children's Defense Fund Action Council® Nonpartisan Congressional Scorecard (CDF Action Council Scorecard). They offered urgently needed help to children, families and other adults struggling to stay afloat in this perilous economic downturn. In 2010, 104 Members of Congress scored 100 percent on the CDF Action Council Scorecard and 141 Members scored between 80 and 100 percent. Please thank them. These leaders saw the importance of protecting and shoring up the foundation for children by voting for:

- Passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and the improvements added by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act. The final Affordable Care Act extended access to health care to 32 million people, including 95 percent of all children.
- Extension of basic lifelines such as unemployment insurance, a higher federal reimbursement rate for Medicaid, and increased aid for low income students struggling to benefit from higher education. These hard fought gains helped buffer millions of people from worse economic hardships in these tough times.

That is the good news. The bad news is that 263 Members of Congress scored below 70 percent on the CDF Action Council Scorecard – a failing grade from our school days and 136 of these Members scored zero. If your members are among them, please let them hear from you and hold them accountable.

“Robbing Peter to Pay Paul”: Tough Choices

Unfortunately, some important gains for children came at the expense of threatened cuts in important programs for needy children and families. For example, the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 continued key child nutrition programs through 2015 for children, many in low-income families. It also included significant new investments in after-school meals, higher reimbursements for school lunch providers, and improvements in the nutritional quality of school meals and meals for children in child care programs. But many Members of Congress were put in the uncomfortable position of having to “rob Peter,” in this case the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), which provides food stamps to families and individuals, to “pay Paul” for the comprehensive child nutrition bill. Because the President and Congressional leaders have committed to fix the cut in SNAP before it occurs in 2013, CDF’s Action Council has counted it as a “yes” vote but all of us must make sure that promise is kept. A similar “rob Peter to pay Paul” trade-off was required on the Medicaid and Education Assistance bill vote, which in both the House and Senate provided billions of dollars for jobs for educators and extended increases in federal funds for Medicaid provided in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (the Recovery Act). However, both bills paid for these gains in part with proposed cuts to SNAP (food stamps) in 2013. Here too there were commitments from Members to work to eliminate these proposed cuts before they took effect. On this basis, the CDF Action Council scored both as a “yes” vote.

Gains for Children and Families Blocked

There were frequent direct attempts in Congress to block child improvements in 2010 for children and adults in need. Congress prevented extensions of support for vulnerable children and families that were in the Recovery Act. Unemployment insurance benefits were allowed to expire three times, harming not only unemployed adults but their children as well. The share of children with an unemployed or underemployed parent doubled between 2007 and 2010 to 18.3 percent. Some members also blocked additional federal assistance to protect or create jobs or expand tax credits for working families desperately trying to feed, house and clothe their children.

Congress also failed to pass the DREAM (Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minors) Act, which would have given many immigrant students who had already spent much of their life in the United States, the hope and opportunity they need to pursue a college education or to serve in the U.S. military. This would have been a critical step forward for tomorrow’s workforce in these challenging times.

Favoring the Powerful and Wealthy Over Powerless Children and the Poor

Most disappointing and harmful for children was a December 2010 vote in which important gains for low income children in the Recovery Act were held hostage to continuation for two years of the unaffordable and profoundly unjust Bush era tax cuts for the wealthiest two percent of Americans. Since their enactment the Bush tax cuts overall have cost our nation nearly $1.3 trillion. While the December bill included increases in the Earned Income Tax Credit, the Child Tax Credit and fiscal relief for college students, it included an average tax break of $104,000 for each millionaire household and changed the estate tax to benefit the very wealthiest families resulting in $68 billion in lost revenue from this later change alone. Together these gains for the wealthiest Americans robbed desperately needed increased investments in programs to help poor families and children. The CDF Action Council scored this vote as a 'no' vote given that the needs of children were held hostage to protect the richest and most powerful Americans. Our wealthiest citizens should have been and must be asked to pay their fair share in taxes.

The AntiChildren Taxpayer Protection Pledge

It is morally obscene for a nation with a Gross Domestic Product (GDP) exceeding $15 trillion to refuse to exercise common sense and moral decency and provide an adequate safety net for its most vulnerable children. The ever-widening income gap between the rich and poor is out of control and must be stopped. Something is awry when our 400 highest income earners made as much in 2008 as the combined tax revenues of 22 states.

The crippling income and wealth gaps convinced the CDF Action Council to include the "Taxpayer Protection Pledge" as an overarching vote against children and the nation's future in its 2010 Scorecard. Americans for Tax Reform created the pledge 25 years ago and "asks every candidate for elected office on the state and federal level to make a written commitment to their constituents to 'oppose and vote against tax increases.'" The CDF Action Council believes that the 212 Congress people who as of 2010 have committed to this irresponsible no-new-taxes pledge are abrogating their responsibility to the nation and sacrificing the well-being and future of millions of children and our entire nation on the altar of the privileged few. They protect the safety net for the wealthy, but leave the safety nets for the poor in tatters.

Poverty can have a long-term – even permanent – effect on children who lose the security of their homes, schools, neighborhoods and friends when families lose their homes and jobs, are forced to move in with others or into homeless shelters. When the stress becomes too much, some children are abused or neglected and move into foster care. The loss of safety amidst the turmoil of economic insecurity fuels parental and child hopelessness about the future. It's time to reverse course.

We need a nation that guarantees justice for all of our children and peoples. We need a public education system that educates all of our children for the future. We need to stop America's dream from vanishing for the next generation. We need to stop tax policies which favor the rich and take from the poor and middle class. We need to challenge those Members of Congress who vote to balance the budget on the backs of our babies and children. Children did not cause the deficit and must not be asked to pay to close it with their health, education, shelter and food.

How the CDF Action Council Compiles This Congressional Scorecard

The 2010 Children's Defense Fund Action Council® Nonpartisan Congressional Scorecard scores seven Senate and seven House votes in 2010 that affected the lives of countless children. The votes in the 2010 Congressional Scorecard cover a range of issues, including child health, education, employment, tax relief, and budget measures.

This scorecard also includes in the final tabulation whether individual senators and representatives were listed as taking The Taxpayer Protection Pledge for the 111th Congress. The pledge, promoted by Americans for Tax Reform (ATR), is a commitment to taxpayers and to the American people that a member will oppose: 1) any and all efforts to increase the marginal income tax rate for individuals and businesses; and 2) any net reduction or elimination of deductions and credits, unless matched dollar for dollar by further reducing tax rates. ATR lists 214 Senators and Representatives (210 Republicans and four Democrats) as taking the pledge as of 2010. CDF believes that those who commit to this no-new-taxes pledge are putting the future of millions of our children in jeopardy and has scored such a commitment as a “no” vote for children.

In compiling the scorecard, members not voting and votes cast as “present” are scored as votes against children. While we acknowledge that some missed votes are unavoidable due to member or family illness, it is not possible for us to objectively determine the reason behind each missed vote.

In the 2010 scorecard there were seven senators¹ and 13 representatives² who were only in office for a portion of the year and therefore could not participate in all the votes used in the scorecard. Congressional lawmakers are not penalized for votes for which they were ineligible. For example, in the House seat representing Hawaii, Rep. Charles Djou replaced Rep. Neil Abercrombie who left in May to run for governor and therefore was not eligible for the first two votes. In West Virginia, the seven votes were split among three senators in one seat. After Sen. Robert Byrd's death in June, Sen. Carte Goodwin was appointed to fill his seat, and in November Sen. Bob Manchin was elected to assume the seat.

It also should be noted that the speaker of the House holds a unique position. Although entitled to participate in debate and to vote, she traditionally votes only when the vote would be decisive and on matters of special importance such as constitutional amendments.

The scorecard scores individual members and also includes state delegation scores, which are an average of the scores of the senators and representatives in the delegation. This again is where it is relevant that in Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York and West Virginia more than one senator or representative shared the same seat for a portion of the year in 2010. In the Illinois delegation, the scorecard scores Mark Kirk twice because he was a member of the House until a special election in November 2010 when he was elected to the Senate. There were also five states³ where there were members of Congress who served for a short period in 2010, but left before any of the scored votes were taken in Congress.

Information on how a representative or senator voted on each selected bill comes from the Congressional Quarterly's automated Internet legislative database (cq.com) and is based on the Congressional Quarterly's record of the votes. These votes are also checked by CDF against the House and Senate roll call votes to ensure they are consistent.

The CDF Action Council hopes this Nonpartisan Congressional Scorecard will serve as an important educational tool as you review the actions of your Members of Congress and urge those still here to support children now and in the next session of Congress. It presents an opportunity for you to judge for yourself how well your congressional lawmaker's votes and actions matched their rhetoric about protecting children. Call, write and visit your senators and representative in Washington, D.C., and in their district offices. To find out who represents you in Congress visit www.congressmerge.com. You can also sign up for Action Alerts from the CDF Action Council or CDF, its sister organization, to find out when Congress is making critical decisions about children and to let them know your views by entering your zip code and email in the "Get Email Alerts" section of our website.

This annual Nonpartisan Congressional Scorecard is part of the CDF Action Council's ongoing public education, policy analysis and advocacy for children. It should not be taken as an endorsement of any candidate for public office.

How Your Members' Votes Affect Children

Key Senate 2010 Children's Votes

1. Health Care and Education Reconciliation

HR 4872, Senate Vote 105; Passed 56-43 on 3/25/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-152 on 3/30/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill makes important changes for children to the comprehensive health reform bill passed by the Senate late in 2009. It also makes several improvements in the structure of student loans and federal financial aid to make higher education more affordable for many students. Final passage and enactment of this bill and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act guarantees access to health coverage for 32 million people in America, including more than 95 percent of all children.

2. Unemployment Benefits Extension

HR 4213, Senate Vote 215; Motion agreed to 59-39 on 7/21/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-205 on 7/22/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill helped children in families suffering from the recession by extending unemployment benefits to the end of November 2010 after the unemployment insurance program had expired more than six weeks earlier. It allowed the long-term unemployed who exhaust their state jobless benefits, typically available for 26 weeks, to receive up to an additional 73 weeks of federal benefits, and many unemployed persons received their benefits retroactively. Unfortunately other relief components for children, families and individuals were stripped from the bill.

3. Medicaid and Education Assistance

HR 1586, Senate Vote 228; Motion agreed to 61-39 on 8/5/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-226 on 8/10/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill provides $16.1 billion to extend for six months the increased federal reimbursement rate for Medicaid in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) and $10 billion to pay for an estimated 161,000 educators' jobs. However, it was one of several bills this session that asked those voting to rob Peter to pay Paul. While the health care and education increases offered important help to children and to budget-strapped states, it was unfortunate that their cost was offset in part by an $11.9 billion cut in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits that were to take effect in 2013. Senators were told by the Senate Majority Leader the SNAP cuts would be restored before they took effect.

4. Gender-Based Wage Discrimination

S 3772, Senate Vote 249; Cloture motion rejected 58-41 on 11/17/2010

Status: Failed to Proceed to Final Passage

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. More than three-fourths of mothers of school-age children and more than two-thirds of mothers of children under age six work are in the labor force. This bill, passed by the House in January 2009, would have provided women legal protections against pay discrimination by requiring employers to show that pay disparity is job and not gender-related. It did not even get debated in the Senate.

5. Middle Class Tax Relief

HR 4853, Senate Vote 258; Cloture rejected 53-36 on 12/4/2010

Status: Amendment Failed

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This amendment would have extended expiring tax cuts in households with income below $250,000 a year and extended unemployment insurance through the end of 2012. For higher income households, it would have provided a tax reduction for their first $250,000 of income, but not continued a tax break for income above that point. This vote on tax relief was a much friendlier vote for children and low income families than the final tax relief package passed by the Senate on December 15.

6. Extension of Tax Cuts for the Wealthy

HR 4853, Senate Vote 276; Motion agreed to 81-19 on 12/15/2010

Status: Became Public Law No. 111-312 on 12/17/2010

CDF Action Council Position: No. This bill extends for two years President Bush's 2001 and 2003 income tax cuts for all taxpayers, including the wealthiest two percent of taxpayers. The bill also extends the Alternative Minimum Tax and expands the Estate Tax so only the very wealthiest families benefit. In exchange, the bill extends unemployment insurance through 2012 and the increases established in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act for the Earned Income Tax Credit, the Child Tax Credit and fiscal relief for college students. The billions of dollars in tax relief for the wealthiest Americans add enormous pressure to cut safety net programs to the detriment of low-income children and families.

7. Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minors (DREAM) Act

HR 5281, Senate Vote 278; Motion rejected 55-41 on 12/18/2010

Status: Failed to Pass

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This amendment would have provided certain immigrant students who grew up in the U.S. secure legal status if they attend college or serve in the U.S. military. Many of them have been living in the United States since their childhood but are denied the opportunity to fully contribute to our country after they graduate from high school due to their undocumented status.

8. The Taxpayer Protection Pledge (the "Pledge")

CDF Action Council Position: No. The pledge promoted by Americans for Tax Reform is a commitment to taxpayers and to the American people that a member will oppose: 1) any and all efforts to increase the marginal income tax rate for individuals and businesses; and 2) any net reduction or elimination of deductions and credits, unless matched dollar for dollar by further reducing tax rates. CDF believes that those who commit to this no-new-taxes pledge are putting the future of millions of our children in jeopardy and has scored such a commitment as a "no" vote for children.

Key House of Representatives 2010 Children's Votes

1. Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act

HR 3590, House Vote 165; Motion agreed to 219-212 on 3/21/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-148 on 3/23/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This landmark health care reform legislation guarantees access to health coverage for 32 million people in America, including more than 95 percent of all children. With the passage of this bill and the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Congress and the president took a major step toward ensuring comprehensive and affordable health coverage for all children and families in America.

2. Health Care and Education Reconciliation

HR 4872, House Vote 194; Motion agreed to 220-207 on 3/25/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-152 on 3/30/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill makes important changes for children to the comprehensive health reform bill passed by the Senate late in 2009. It also makes several improvements in the structure of student loans and federal financial aid to make higher education more affordable for many students. Final passage and enactment of this bill and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act guarantees access to health coverage for 32 million people in America, including more than 95 percent of all children.

3. Unemployment Benefits Extension

HR 4213, House Vote 463; Motion agreed to 272-152 on 7/22/2010

Status: Became Public Vote 111-205 on 7/22/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill helped children in families suffering from the recession by extending unemployment benefits to the end of November 2010 after the unemployment insurance program had expired more than six weeks earlier. It allowed the long-term unemployed who exhaust their state jobless benefits, typically available for 26 weeks, to receive up to an additional 73 weeks of federal benefits, and many unemployed persons received their benefits retroactively. Unfortunately other relief components for children, families and individuals were stripped from the bill.

4. Medicaid and Education Assistance

HR 1586, House Vote 518; Motion agreed to 247-161 on 8/10/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-226 on 8/10/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. This bill provides $16.1 billion to extend for six months the increased federal reimbursement rate for Medicaid in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) and $10 billion to pay for an estimated 161,000 educators' jobs. However, it was one of several bills this session that asked those voting to rob Peter to pay Paul. While the health care and education increases offered important help to children and to budget-strapped states, it was unfortunate that their cost was offset in part by $11.9 billion in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits that were to take effect in 2013. As passage was debated, Congressional leaders committed to work to restore SNAP benefit levels before cuts took effect.

5. Child Nutrition

S 3307, House Vote 603; Passed 264-157 on 12/2/2010

Status: Became Public Law 111-178 on 12/13/2010

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. The Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 reauthorized through 2015 child nutrition programs that provide nutritious meals and snacks to millions of children, especially those in low-income families. It provides significant new investments for better child nutrition through more afterschool meals, higher reimbursements for school lunch providers, improved administration of WIC, and improvements in the nutritional quality of school meals and meals in child care program. However, it was one of several bills this session that asked those voting to rob Peter to pay Paul. While the child nutrition bill included significant new investments, it was unfortunate that their cost was offset in part by cuts in SNAP benefits that were to take effect in 2013. Final passage was accompanied by a commitment by the President and Congressional leaders to fix the cut in SNAP benefits before they took effect.

6. Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minors (DREAM) Act

HR 5281, House Vote 625; Passed 216-198 on 12/8/2010

Status: Failed to Pass in Senate

CDF Action Council Position: Yes. The DREAM Act was added as an amendment to H.R. 5281, the Removal Clarification Act of 2010, and would have provided certain immigrant students who grew up in the United States secure legal status if they attend college or serve in the U.S. military. Many of these young immigrants have been living in the United States since their childhood but are denied the opportunity to fully contribute to our country after they graduate from high school due to their undocumented status.

7. Extension of Tax Cuts for the Wealthy

HR 4853, House Vote 647; Motion agreed to 277-148 on 12/16/2010

Status: Became Public Law No. 111-312 on 12/17/2010

CDF Action Council Position: No. This bill extends for two years President Bush's 2001 and 2003 income tax cuts for all taxpayers, including the wealthiest two percent of taxpayers. The bill also extends the Alternative Minimum Tax and expands the Estate Tax so only the very wealthiest families benefit. In exchange, the bill extends unemployment insurance through 2012 and the increases established in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act for the Earned Income Tax Credit, the Child Tax Credit and fiscal relief for college students. The billions of dollars in tax relief for the wealthiest Americans add enormous pressure to cut safety net programs to the detriment of low-income children and families.

8. The Taxpayer Protection Pledge (the "Pledge")

CDF Action Council Position: No. The pledge promoted by Americans for Tax Reform, is a commitment to taxpayers and to the American people that a Member will oppose: 1) any and all efforts to increase the marginal income tax rate for individuals and businesses; and 2) any net reduction or elimination of deductions and credits, unless matched dollar for dollar by further reducing tax rates. CDF believes that those who commit to this no-new-taxes pledge are putting the future of millions of our children in jeopardy and has scored such a commitment as a "no" vote for children.
